

Ex-BlackRock specialist joins Singapore-based IAM

By Indira Vergis / 19 Jul, 2016

Thirdrock Group has hired two senior executives for its discretionary fixed income strategy team.

Suanjin Tan, who was previously head of Asian private credit and lead portfolio manager for China credit at BlackRock, has been appointed senior portfolio manager.

Yi-Lin Lee, who was previously head of credit sales Singapore at Haitong International, has been appointed senior fixed income strategist, portfolio manager.

She has previously worked with RBS, Deutsche Bank and Merrill Lynch.

In addition to traditional bond markets, her product experience includes investment and hedging strategies using a range of credit or interest rate derivatives.

Both hires are effective June 27.

The duo will co-manage a discretionary fixed income strategy, adding to Thirdrock's growing suite of discretionary portfolio management offerings.

Headquartered in Singapore, Thirdrock is a leading independent asset management firm, with a focus on servicing and advising sophisticated accredited investors and corporate clients globally.
